

26 March 2020

Dear Parent/Guardian,

Earlier today, the Queensland Premier and Education Minister announced that schools would have mandated student free days next week. As previously communicated and planned, Term 1 will finish this Friday 27 March for young people at the Australian Industry Trade College (AITC), and staff will continue to be on campus next week to prepare to deliver a comprehensive learning at home program.

We are grateful for technology and systems, which can provide enhanced educational and industry opportunities online, but the College is also aware that access to technology in each household will vary.

As such, we ask you to complete a quick questionnaire (link below) by Friday 3 April to evaluate your capacity to conduct learning at home.

Complete your Learning from Home Readiness Questionnaire here

The information provided in the questionnaire will help the College determine your young person's level of access to devices, internet connection, capacity to speak directly with teaching staff, and the need for other means of delivery to ensure, to the best of our ability, the continuity of your young person's education.

We understand that a school closure would present a complex set of challenges for families and staff alike. Please be kind and respectful as we learn together during these extraordinary times.

The AITC will continue to work with families for the benefit of our young people.